

Mystery dinner held 'down on the farm' benefits Cathedral Arts Project

The 6th annual Diner en Noir Mystery Dinner to benefit the Cathedral Arts Project (CAP) was hosted Feb. 9 by the CAPtivators, a young professionals group which supports CAP. Diner en Noir is a pop-up dinner modeled after a similar idea that started in Paris.

Approximately xxx guests attired in black are invited to the spontaneous masquerade dinner at a secret location, revealed by text message just hours prior to the start of the event. This year the benefit was held at Congaree and Penn Farm and Mills, where guests enjoyed an evening of dining courtesy of Streaming the Bullet food truck and dancing to DJ James Harper of Entertainment and Productions. Prizes were awarded for the best dressed, best mask, and best table décor.

Previous mystery locations include St. John's Cathedral, the EverBank building (now TIAA Bank), the Jessie Ball duPont Center, Bella Sera, and Intuition Ale Works.
