Visual Arts Teaching Artist Fellow

Position: Full Time, Salaried

Location: Jacksonville, FL

Department: Program

Why You Will Love This Role

Are you ready to transform education through the arts and make a lasting impact on the lives of young learners? As a full-time Visual Arts Teaching Artist Fellow, you'll have the unique opportunity to blend your artistic passion with a commitment to educational excellence, fostering creativity and visual expression.

In 2017, CAP embarked on a visionary journey as its board, staff, and key stakeholders convened to forge a bold new path forward, introducing a groundbreaking fellowship model that broadens CAP's reach and strengthens the arts sector. This exciting initiative is not a typical fellowship—it's a permanent position ensuring long-term impact and lasting career growth opportunities for those passionate about driving change through the arts.

The position has an anticipated start date of no later than July 31, 2024.

Your Impact

- Engage and Inspire: Directly impact the lives of students across multiple schools and community sites by providing 18-20 hours of weekly instruction in visual arts. Embrace

CAP's core value to sing out loud by encouraging students to find their artistic expression.

- Create and Collaborate: Utilize your artistic skills to develop innovative and engaging art projects that meet educational standards and embody CAP's core value to color outside the lines, ensuring your work not only educates, but also inspires and transforms lives.
 - Lead with Excellence: Orchestrate enriching educational experiences ranging from classroom projects to exciting field trips, guest artist sessions, and community engagement activities. By championing CAP's core value to inspire every child's creative spirit, you will ensure every endeavor not only meets but exceeds expectations, setting a new benchmark for excellence in arts education.
 - Cultivate Creativity and Joy: Foster an environment where joy and creativity flourish. Encourage students and colleagues alike to maintain vibrant and continuous artistic exploration, truly embodying CAP's core value to maintain your creative spark.

What You Will Bring

- A Passion for Artistic and Educational Excellence: With a strong background in visual arts and experience in arts education, you are ideally equipped to merge these realms to cultivate high standards of artistic learning and creativity.
- Creativity and Collaborative Spirit: As a creative problem-solver, you excel in innovating and adapting to foster a supportive community among students, educators and parents. Your strong collaborative spirit enables you to work effectively alongside educational and community members, enhancing the learning environment and maximizing impact through shared efforts and mutual support.
- Dynamic Educational Approach: Your innovative teaching methods integrate visual arts into educational curricula, enhancing student engagement and achievement. Your approach helps students connect with artistic materials in meaningful ways, promoting both artistic skills and broader educational goals.
- Leadership in Arts Education: You have a proven track record of leading arts-based projects that inspire students and educators alike. Your leadership skills are evident in your ability to manage projects, inspire innovation, and maintain high educational standards.

- Resilience and Adaptability: You are adept at navigating the challenges that come with integrating the arts into diverse learning settings. Your resilience helps you adapt lesson plans to meet the needs of various student populations and deliver high-quality educational experiences under varying conditions.
 - Commitment to Inclusivity: With a dedication to creating inclusive and safe learning environments, you ensure every child feels valued and empowered to express their artistic visions. Your teaching celebrates diverse perspectives and encourages students to respect and learn from each other's differences, fostering a rich, culturally aware artistic community.
 - Educational Background: A bachelor's degree in art, arts education, or a closely related field is required for this position, with a strong preference for candidates holding an MFA. Ideal candidates will have an educational background that prepares them for profound engagement with visual arts and pedagogy.
 - Professional Experience: You have a demonstrated history of working in visual arts, with a specific focus on educating young students. Experience in elementary education is preferred, as this role requires a deep understanding of how to integrate visual arts into core curriculum areas, enhancing both artistic development and general educational outcomes.

A Day in the Life

- Morning Engagement: Start your day energized as you prepare and deliver interactive visual arts lessons that seamlessly integrate artistic concepts with other academic subjects, making the content engaging and accessible. Focus on developing lesson plans that blend visual arts with academic curriculum goals, ensuring that each session enhances both artistic expression and educational outcomes.
- Active Collaboration: Spend midday hours engaging with classroom teachers, CAP peers, and local arts community members to integrate visual arts into the broader curriculum. This collaboration might involve planning upcoming units, discussing student progress, and adapting strategies to meet diverse learning needs. Also, focus on strengthening relationships with cultural partners to enhance CAP's presence and impact within the arts community.

- Afternoon Creativity: Lead art sessions for school projects, curating enriching opportunities for exhibits and showcasing student work. Provide students with valuable opportunities to create and present their artistic talents, fostering an environment where they can gain confidence and appreciation for their creative expressions.
 - Community Connection: Occasionally participate in workshops or community arts events, which strengthen the bond between CAP and the wider community. These activities highlight the role the arts play in fostering community engagement and cultural appreciation.
 - Reflection and Planning: Wrap up your day by using data to reflect on the successes and learning opportunities of the day. Plan for future lessons considering how best to address student needs and make the most of the educational experience the next day.
